Government to Have Extensive Exhibit at Virginia State Fair Next Mouth.

One of the features of the Virginia State Fair, which will open October 6 for a week, will be the government exhibition of models of seacraft that bottled up German war vessels and convoyed safely American troops to the European side of the Atlantic. The models will be taken from the halls of the State War and Navy Building in Washington to be displayed in connection with other government exhibits.

In addition to the larger models of the fighting ships, the navy will display several models showing the application of camouflage. # COLDS AND FLU Calotabs, the New Nauscaless Calomel Tablets, Cut Short Colds and May Prevent Flu By Keeping Liver Active.

Physicians have learned from experience, during the epidemic of influenza, that one of the most important factors in the prevention of flu and pneumonia is to keep the liver active so that the digestive organs may be in perfect working order and the system thereby enabled to throw off colds, check sore throats, and resist serious complications. For this purpose they have found that the new, nauscaless calomel tablets called Calotabs, are farmore effective even than the old style scalomel, which was formerly the unicalomel, which was formerly the universal favorite, as Calotabs do not weaken the patient, nor interfere with the appetite and digestion.

At the first sign of a cold or sore tion throat, doctors recommend one Calotab at bedtime with a swallow of water,— that's all. No saits, no nausea, nor the slightest interference with your diet, pleasure or work. Next morning you wake up feeling fine, your liver is ac-

NERVES BY HELPING NATURE AT WORK

Get Back the Old "Pep" and Work as You Used to Do.

HERE'S WAY TO DO IT EASILY

Nervous? Well, a little. Don't like to admit it, eh? No one does. But the nerves of all of us get a wee bit frazzled at times. Shouldn't, but they do. Nature intended that we should lead natural lives. We don't—at least ail of us don't. Sometimes too much work; sometimes too much play. Then an attack of "nerves.".

Then is the time for Pepsinol. Nature, overtaxed by a burden which we have ourselves imposed, is unable of itself to restore the health equilibrium which we have thoughtlessly removed. Nature needs help. To give that help the formula for Pepsinol was worked out.

Most physical altment.

the formula for Pepsinol was worked out.

Most physical ailments may be traced to an acid stomach followed by a torpid liver. The kidneys and other organs become deranged Constipation develops. Then insomnia wears down the strength that should be rebuilt rightly. The daily exercise that should keep the muscles firm is abandoned because one is "too tired" to walk, or ride or play outdoor games.

Next the daily headaches, dizziness, continued irritation, even at the smaliest triffes. Biliousness brings a sour stomach and a fetid breath, making their possessor an annoyance to those nearby.

Finally a mental depression, a brood-common before Pepsinol got rid of it. Gone are the insomnia, mental depression and kindred ailments. Nature is again mistress of the situation—thanks to Pepsinol.

Influenza has been a terrific scourge in the world during past months. Its ravages were so great in England and Wales that the death rate exceeded the birth rate. Fortunately it has not been Wales that the death rate exceeded the birth rate. Fortunately it has not been so severe in this country, but nevertheless tens of thousands in the United States have suffered.

The after-effects of influenza may be most serious. The disease leaves the physical power of resistance greatly weakened. The convalescent patient may immediately fall victim to another disease. To prevent this the power of resistance must be strengthened. Pepsinol aims to be a strengthened. Pepsinol aims to be a strengthener. Now acting in its capacity of tonic, it should be taken to prevent further ravages of iliness. It is a reconstructive agent—a bulwark against disease.
